Raymond Subes Chandelier

Raymond Subes one of the master's of early 20th century design created this chandelier in the mid 1930's. The elegantly scrolled central support and arms hold four orange opalescent glass bells signed by Schneider. This museum quality piece will be a real treasure in any setting. As an interesting side-note, Subes created the spectacular torchere lanterns that span the famed Carousel bridge next to Paris's Louvre Museum!
