#4771

Classical bronze sculpture of Narcissus

The bronze is shown nude except for a pair of sandals, standing on a circular plinth with his head bowed and an arm extended, an animal skin draped over one shoulder. Modeled after the original Narcissus found in a Pompeian house by Giuseppe Fiorelli. In Greek mythology, Narcissus was known for his beauty and fell in love with his own reflection. Unable to tear himself away, he remained staring at his reflection for the rest of his life.
